Low Temperature Cooking and Sous Vide Equipment

The combination of a thermal circulator and vacuum packaging machine offer chefs a variety of game changing possibilities. You can shift your work load to prep time, rather than service, dramatically increasing your kitchen's efficiency. With thermal circulators you can achieve uniform temperatures, modify textures, and often achieve increased tenderness on a variety of food items. In addition, vacuum pack machines increase shelf life of food and offer you new options for kitchen organization.

Fusion Chef Pearl Thermal Circulator By Julabo

The Pearl thermal circulator guarantees a temperature stability of  $\pm 0.05$  °F ( $\pm 0.03$  °C) in vessels or cooking pots up to 61 quarts. The integrated safety protection grid prevents the bath contents from touching the heating coil, pump and the float. The strong circulating pump ensures optimum temperature stability and even distribution of water in the bath. This has a positive effect on the heat-up times when chilled pouches of foods are put into the bath. With its specially designed mounting bracket the Pearl can be placed on any vessel or cooking pot quickly and easily. The integrated timer allows for easy monitoring of the remaining cooking time.

Fusion Chef Diamond Thermal Circulator by Julabo

The Diamond thermal circulator has all of the features of the Pearl thermal circulator (item number P400) plus additional innovative functions like pre-programmed memory keys for meat, fish, and vegetables, and calibration functions. When used in conjunction with the optional Core Temperature Sensor (item number P405-S, page 6), the Diamond thermal circulator emits an alarm to indicate that your selected core temperature has been reached. The timers can be started separately from each other so you have optimum control. The timer that will expire next is shown continuously. A visual and acoustic signal informs the chef when the desired time has passed. The timer then goes into the minus range so you always know the total time that the food has been cooking. Each of the pre-programmed memory keys (fish, meat, and vegetables) is set to five practical temperature values that can be edited to fit your particular needs.

The Diamond thermal circulator has the ability to data log time and temperature with the addition of the Fusion Chef software and interface cable making HACCP data logging straight forward and easy to manage. Diamond has extensive functionality that makes it an excellent addition to any professional kitchen.

Immersion Thermal Circulator

The cooking technique for better quality and lower cost. Vacuum packed ingredients are slowly simmered in 104°-158° F water. The results are fantastic and far-reaching.

Enhanced Succulence — Sous-vide's gentle heating gradually breaks down meat fibers and proteins, tenderizing and intensifying flavors as food cooks in its own juices. Lower cost (medium grade) cuts of meat can appear and taste as good or better than more expensive cuts.

Sous Vide foods can be prepared well in advance and finished for weekend service.

Pre-cooking and safe easy storage are also helpful for large parties and off-site catering.

Enhanced Nutritional Quality — The sous-vide technique is so gentle that it preserves many nutritional qualities that other cooking methods tend to destroy. Moreover, sous-vide cooking requires little if any butter or oil, making it ideal for the preparation of low-fat healthful dishes.

Provides exceptional control of liquid heating and circulation, assuring a constant temperature throughout the container. Three preset buttons make selection of frequently used cooking or thawing temperatures fast and fool-proof. Attaches directly to stock pots, roasters, and hotel pans. Low and high circulation speeds provide precise temperature control. Suitable for any cooking liquid, including stock, juice, oil and emulsions. Stainless steel heating coil and circulating pump.
